COVID-19 Bivalent Vaccine

All seniors, aged 65 and over, are recommended to get a COVID-19 bivalent booster dose. It has been developed to target 2 strains of COVID-19, including omicron, and provides the broadest protection available.

The bivalent vaccine has been proven to be safe and effective, reducing severe symptoms of COVID-19, and reduces the chance of hospitalization and even death.

Note: In order to receive the bivalent booster dose, you must have received the primary vaccination series (usually two doses).
